1. Choose which cards to use. There are several options:
   - Use the state bingo cards and the state call cards (easiest)
   - Use the capital bingo cards and the capital call cards (still pretty easy)
   - Use the capital bingo cards and the state call cards (harder)
   - Use the state bingo cards and the capital call cards (also harder)
2. Cut the call cards apart
3. Give each player one of the bingo cards.
4. Distribute daubers or some other way to mark the cards. If you use something like pennies or small pieces of candy as markers you can reuse the cards.
5. Place the call cards in a paper bag.
6. Randomly pull a call card from the bag and say the name of the state or capital on the card.
7. If the player has the matching state or capital on his card, he marks it.
8. Continue drawing call cards and having the players mark their cards.
9. When a player has a whole row covered (across, down, or diagonal) she yells BINGO!
10. Check the player's card against the states or capitals which has been named so far. If he really has a full row covered, he wins that round.
11. Continue playing rounds until you are out of time.

Other popular variations are Four Corners (cover the four corner spaces) and Cover All (cover every space on the card).
